BEAT CANCER TODAY PEDIATRIC CANCER SURVIVOR LOW INCOME SCHOLARSHIP

SCHOLARSHIP RULES, GUIDELINES, AND PROCEDURES

Beat Cancer Today (the “Organization”) is a 501(c)(3) public charity that aims to create awareness of childhood cancers and to provide financial support for childhood cancer research and for patient and family support programs. Consistent with this mission, Beat Cancer Today has established the Beat Cancer Today Pediatric Cancer Survivor Scholarship (the “Scholarship”) as a way to provide financial assistance to survivors of pediatric cancer who are pursuing post-secondary education from accredited educational institutions. The following guidelines outline the Scholarship’s rules and procedures.

Applicant Eligibility

In order to further the Organization’s charitable mission, survivors of a form of pediatric cancer aged 16-26 with a home address in Iowa coming from households with incomes at or below 300% of the current year’s Federal Poverty Guidelines are eligible to apply for the Scholarship. The term “survivor” is defined as any person who has previously been diagnosed with any form of pediatric cancer. To be considered for the scholarship award, the applicant must complete the entire application and submit the application in the manner described within the application. Family members of individuals currently serving on the Organization’s Board of Directors are not eligible to apply for the Scholarship.

Selection Criteria

The selection criteria listed on the Scholarship application form and corresponding essay and letters of recommendation are designed to give the Selection Committee ample resources to select the scholarship winner in an objective and non-discriminatory manner. The scholarship winners will be selected based on the applicant(s) who best exemplify the Organization’s charitable purposes. In addition to the purposes described above, these purposes include, but are not limited to, honoring individuals who have been affected by pediatric cancer, have demonstrated the ability and willingness to raise awareness for pediatric cancer, and would be personally benefitted by the scholarship award.

The Organization does not require and does not expect to receive any benefit from applicants and/or the scholarship award winner as a result of the scholarship program.

Selection Committee

The Selection Committee shall consist of individuals within the State of Iowa that are selected by, but are independent from, the Organization's Board of Directors. In order to create an independent and fair selection process, the Selection Committee members will not be comprised of any individuals who have a personal interest, either directly or indirectly, in the identity of the scholarship applicants and ultimate winner(s). If a conflict should arise, the Selection Committee member will notify the Board of Directors, recuse himself or herself, and the Board of Directors will select a replacement committee member.

A member of the Selection Committee should recuse himself or herself when it is discovered that the Committee member's relative has applied for the Scholarship. A relative includes the Committee member's: spouse, ancestor, sibling (biological, adoptive, or step-sibling), sibling's child (biological, adoptive, or step child), child (biological, adoptive, or step child), grandchild, great grandchild, and the spouses of children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren.

Administering the Scholarship

The Selection Committee will select the winner(s) of the Scholarship and will notify the Organization's Board of Directors. The Selection Committee will inform the Board of Directors of the winner(s) name, address, contact, purpose of the scholarship, amount of scholarship, manner of selection, relationship (if any) to the Board of Directors or Selection Committee, and any other information that is needed to award the scholarship.

The Board of Directors will use the information obtained from the Selection Committee to notify the winner(s). The Board of Directors will also notify the Scholarship recipient's accredited academic institution and furnish the award directly to the academic institution. To minimize the risk that the scholarship award will be included in the award recipient's taxable income, the Board of Directors will instruct the academic institution to apply the scholarship award for the purposes of tuition and fees and required course books. The award should be administered by the academic institution at the start of the academic semester via a one-time payment.

Personal Information Use, Retention and Destruction

The Organization will collect, retain, and dispose of the applicant's personal information in the manner proscribed by all applicable State and federal laws. The Organization will collect and retain the applicant's personal information in a secure manner and will only use the information for the purpose of selecting scholarship winners. The Organization will secure the applicant's written consent for any other use of the applicant's personal information.
